

ABOUT YOU

As a freelance estimator/account manager offering you my valuable skills developed over many years, my primary objective is to offer you the opportunity to engage with a senior estimator motivated to help grow your company, protect its interests and look into the future with confidence that you have access to a service guaranteed to satisfy your requirements, in the knowledge that you will not be disappointed

My motivation is to pass the unique value of the ohpp system I developed to the right companies that would appreciate its place in the future growth of the company.

The use of the ohpp system protected our company during the severe recessions of the 80s and 90s. The purpose of the ohpp starts at the tender submission, and to turn the statement into profit requires a minor adoption of preparation of valuations in a specific manner to complete the process. This requires a period of training to ensure that your account manager can use the system to its maximum effect. The charge for this part of the service I offer your company is £550.00. and must be conducted in a face-to-face environment.

I look forward to your feedback and acknowledgement that the service I offer you has delivered as intended.

I also provide building cost estimates to clients that require budgeting information for their future projects, subject to location and suitability I offer an introduction for contractors to these clients.

If you engage the use of my services, you can rest assured that my commitment is 100%

My availability to provide services is booked on a first come first appointed basis, therefore, to avoid disappointment please contact me well in advance of your requirement.
